NEARLY SPRING 2020

Dear Clients,

Well as for you farmers down South I trust your calving, lambing etc has gone as well as the majority up here in the North? Clients report mostly very easy time, or as easy as it can be. Weather has been good, Grass growing (a lot of it due to Gibb-Gro of course) and not high death rates. So that is a plus, starts one off for the season ahead on a good note.

The Covid 19 is just horrible isn't it? We in the Waikato are like most of you and on level 2 so at least I can go fishing but lines at shopping malls are still there but not as bad as the first time. People have seemed to learned about panic buying. It just frustrates me to watch folks lining up at checkouts with trolleys full of toilet rolls! And that photo on social media showing an older woman looking with despair at the empty toilet roll shelves. I was really hit hard by that.

My granddaughter caught the Covid, she was working in a bar in London, so that for a start made the odds of her catching it a lot shorter. Her and her man both aged 21, decided like many others to cut their working holiday in the mother country and return. Now this was months ago, before the massive wave of returnees started.

Her mother, my daughter and her brother met them at Auckland airport, no cuddles, just threw them the keys of a car laden with fourteen days of food and drink and away they went about 2 am to Mt Maunganui to the boyfriends grand parents holiday bach. About 2 days later Bree developed a cough and so of course the test was done and positive it was.

Now I know people who call this Covid thing just a "flu" I tell you she was not well. I was on the phone to her, she was crying, I was crying, she had massive headaches and breathing problems. No wonder many of us oldies don't stand a chance. Thankfully Bree is fully recovered, the partner didn't catch it, amazing that.

Pretty busy we are at the moment, clients are looking ahead and not that much tucker is there so we get the calls and we are happy to receive them.

That's us. No price change.

Regards,

Brian and Frances, Me and Her.

OVER

FUNNY BUSINESS

A Psychiatrist was conducting a group therapy session with young mothers and their small children. You all have obsessions, he stated, and I am concerned that this will impact on your children.

To the first mother, Mary, he said, you are obsessed with eating and named your young child Candy.

To the second mother, Joyce, he said, your obsession is alcohol, which shows in your children's names Brandy and Sherry. You even called your cat Whisky.

Turning to the third mother, June, he said, your obsession is with flowers. Your girls are named Rose, Daphne and Poppy,

At this point the fourth mother quietly got up and took her little boy by the hand and whispered, come on Dick, this guy has no idea what he is talking about. Grab Fanny and Willy, we are leaving.

"Thanks, Lindsay and Debbie."
